NETWORK COLLABORATION & INTEGRATION

SHP has helped a community of independent providers come together with community based hospitals to collaborate on strategic goals. Along with provider engagement, compliance programs, and legal guidance, analytics and connectivity consistently remains the toughest obstacle to overcome. As a result we believe Performance Analytics is the solution.

- To best position for the current and future realities of healthcare, while maintaining focus on current operations, providers are turning to clinical integration as an option.
- For an effective and legally approved approach, you must have the necessary data infrastructure to connect to one another in a HIPAA compliant environment and report in a detailed and benchmarking fashion across all parties.
- From an infrastructure perspective, any of the items above cannot occur without the ability to connect the various providers and disparate platforms. Our Performance Analytics checks the box on the most glaring and costly item with any provider integration initiative.

Be confident in the actions you take.

SHP Performance Analytics Services are the one resource you need to turn data into informed decisions for your practice. Easily spot inefficiencies to make updates to operational policies, determine where issues lie, and have the information you need to quickly adapt to the ever changing healthcare reimbursement and legislative landscape.

A return on investment for our clients.

Because of the insight SHP Performance Analytics provides, our clients are able to see tangible results to the bottom line. Here is what one of our clients has to say:

“We have been associated with SHP for several years as a direct client as well as member of multiple IPA’s and most recently a Clinically Integrated Network (CIN). Along with their work product, their honesty and integrity have been of great value to our practice. Their analytics, enrollment support, strategic advisory and knowledge of the market have been essential to our practice’s success. Our practice operations are simply more efficient because of their support.”
